BARYCENTRIC SOLUTIONS · CONSULTING

Everything turns around your business.

A consulting firm. We find the fix, then build it.

We want to make sure the systems that your business revolves around don't break. Start with a review, or bring us one job. The fix arrives where you'll use it: a spreadsheet, a document or a tool.

What we review

- Where work stalls.
- How decisions get made.
- How records fit together.
- What your documents ask people to do.

Every job gets a quote. Tell us what you need, and we send one fixed price before anything starts. No project is too big or too small.

What we won't do

- No passwords. You sign in to your own accounts.
- No surprises. Nothing that sends, posts or spends goes out without your yes.
- No leftovers. Our copies of your files are deleted 30 days after delivery.

How a job works

1. Tell us what you need, in your own words.
2. If anything is unclear, we ask. The rest is our homework.
3. You get a proposal: one recommendation, one price, a date.
4. Approve it or change it.
5. We build it, and check it before it reaches you.
6. You review it. Anything that doesn't match the proposal, we fix free.
7. 30-day follow-up: for 30 days after delivery, we fix anything that doesn't match what you approved. Send problems as you find them. At 30 days, tell us what worked and what you'd want next.

A big change from what you first asked for is quoted before any work starts.

Sample work

A crop export rebuilt to answer a question — 12,384,600 tons in, 12,384,600 out. A flat property ledger turned into owner-ready books, tied to the cent. A government brochure rewritten so a tenant reads it in one pass, with every right kept.

Samples are built from public data or made-up names. Not legal, tax or accounting advice.
